The trial of Lewis Williams, a young colored man, charged with murdering W. C. Aldee, a former police officer, on the 1st of last October, began resterday in the criminal court, Justice Montgomery presiding. The Rilling was the outcome of an altercation at a store near Benning's station, during which Williams hit Alden with a brick, fracturing his skull, from the effects of which death resulted in a few hours.

The prisoner is about 17 years of a e, has a dogged expression, and apparently belongs to the lower class of his race. He is represented by Mr. E. M. Hewlett, District Attorney Worthington appearing for the government.

As usual the greatest difficulty was experienced in securing a satisfactory jury, and two receases were necessary, so that the marshal's force might hunt up delinquent talesmen. The panel embraced the names of some of the best business men, and was exhausted by 3 o'clock, but eight jurous having been accepted by both sides. E. F. Childs, S. W. Woodward, and Dr. G. F. Whiting, among others, had conscientious scrupler; had read of the case in the REPUBLICAN, didn't know either the deceased or defendant, but had formed opinions, and were of course excused.

By this time Justice Monigomery was becoming irritated at what was pisinly an effort of Washington's best clitzens to escape serving on the jury, and he severely rebuked those whom he even let go. E. W. Stevens was the next gentleman with fixed prejudice, and was subjected to a searching examination, the result being that he was told to get in the box, but the judge's efforts were nullified by the defence's peremptory challenge.

Justice Montgomery, seeing that there was no prespect of getting a jury, aljourned court till 10 o'clock to day, for which an extra venire of forty men have been summoned.

In conversation with a Republican representative, his honor said that he was thoroughly discusted with the attempts of prominent clitzens to escape jury duty, and that he didn't propose to stand it much lenger. M 188 ANNIE K. HUMPHREY,

MUST EXTEND THEIR TRACKS. What East Washington Wants of the Street Railroad Company. The East Washington Association held a meeting at Weller & Repetti's office last night. The only business transacted was the adoption of an amendment to the bill to incorporate the Weshington and Georgetown railroad, which asks that the road shall be made to extend its tracks from Eighth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast, eastward to E street, along E street to the Congressional Cemetery, then southwestwardly along Georgia avenue to the navy yard gate, and there connect with the main branch of the road.

Considerable talk was indulged in over the building of the old depot on South Capitol street. The discussion finally ended in a proposition to invite the citizens of the locality to be present next Wednesday and talk over the best means of preventing the establishment of an old depot in that section of the city.

Mr. Weller said, in reference to the Eastern branch bridge, that the proposition now beorporate the Washington and George-

Mr. Weller said, in reference to the Eastern branch bridge, that the proposition now was to silow the Baltimore and Potomac Company to run their tracks under the first span on the northern end of the bridge. This would give them 160 feet, whereas at the present time the company had only sixty-six feet. The company, however, do not relish this plan, as the coat of the change to be made would be about $25,000, and the plan they have would only cost $10,000. He said that Col. Hains had shown himself to be a friend to the citizens of East Washington and deserved their thanks. He said further that Col. Hains was determined to have a good bridge or none at all. The meeting then adjourned.

LATRONIA, Ga., August 11, 1987.

The Swipt Seguine Co., Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—I have been afflicted with a child, the disease undoubtedly being a child, the disease undoubtedly being hereditary, as my mother suffered from scrotulous syntheton increased until the maledy became harrassing and painful beyond the power of words to describe. My right leg particularly became fearfully involved, the left leg being less pain ratuly involved, the left leg being less pain ratulation. It order to save my life the doctors determined to amputate my leg below the knee. The operation was successfully performed by Dr. H. V. M. Miller, of Atlanta, and Dr. W. P. Bond, of Lithonia. But the loss of my leg gave me only temporary relief. The poison was still in my system and soon began to show itself egain. In a short time affort large uleer as spill in my system and soon began to show itself egain.
